About the Seminar:

In this lecture, we will consider the claims arising out of a maritime casualty, based on a scenario involving a collision between two ships. This will include a review of the possible inter-ship claims, cargo claims (including a comparison of the obligations under the Hague-Visby and Rotterdam Rules) and salvage, SCOPIC and general average, oil pollution, wreck removal, loss of life and personal injury issues. Within this scenario, we will also consider the potential insurance, limitation of liability, security and criminal liability issues arising from a maritime casualty.

About the Speaker:

Andrew is an English solicitor and experienced marine casualty investigator and claims handler, having qualified in HFW London in 1999, following 11 years as a deck officer in the Royal Navy.
