Commercial Arbitration Symposium 2015

Organised by the SI Arb Arbitration Bar Committee
The Old Parliament House, 1 Old Parliament Lane, Singapore 179429
Thursday, 22 October 2015
12.00pm – 9.30pm

Symposium Format

The SI Arb Commercial Arbitration Symposium provides a distinctive and interactive forum for participants to discuss current issues and developments in the field of commercial arbitration.

The success of the Symposium depends on free-flowing discussion among the participants of current issues in commercial arbitration practice, all under the guidance of the experienced Co-Chairs, each of which is a leading individual in the field. Rather than set-piece speeches and pre-arranged speaking slots, participants are invited to submit topics in advance. The topics submitted will be grouped into themes and allocated to one of the 3 working sessions, at which participants will be invited to introduce their topics. The titles of each session are not prescriptive; participants are encouraged to submit and present questions on any topic relevant to the practice of commercial arbitration.

There are limited places available for this Symposium so as to maintain the efficiency of the format and preserve the quality of the discussion. However, there is no requirement or expectation to have any particular level of practical experience in arbitration, and participants from private practice, in-house practice, the business community and academia, at all levels, are strongly encouraged to attend and share their views.

SCMA Annual Conference 2015 delegates enjoy 10% off applicable fees for registration of this Symposium.
